

ENTIRE DAY DEVOTED TO FRAMING PLATFORM AT ST. LOUIS CONVENTION

Unanimous Report of Resolutions Committee Will be Submitted at 8 O'clock Tonight.

Authoritatively Announced That No Refer- ence Will be Made to Money or Income Tax Plank.

W. J. Bryan Will Support Nominee Who Will be Judge Parker.

Tariff Revision and Anti-Trust Planks Prominent in Platform—Anti-Parker Men Attempted Stampede to Cleveland but it Fails—Some Sharp Clashes in Committee on Plat- form—Short Session of Con- vention Today.

St. Louis, July 8.—(Bulletin).—Parker will be nominated either to night or tomorrow morning.

The platform signed by every member of the resolutions committee, including Hill, leader of the conservatives, and Bryan, leader of the radicals will be reported and adopted. The platform will neither repudiate nor reaffirm any former principle of the Democratic party. No reference will be made either to the Kansas City or the Chicago platforms. The money question will not be mentioned. There will be a tariff revision plank, and a strong anti-trust plank. Bryan will not bolt the ticket. In fact, it would not be surprising if he would announce to the convention that he will support it.

The convention adjourned at 12:08 this afternoon till 8 tonight.

St. Louis, July 8.—(Bulletin).—The last resort of the opponents of Judge Parker is the attempt of a stampede to Grover Cleveland, but it will fail. Parker will be nominated when the vote is reached.

Nothing was accomplished in convention today. An adjournment until 8 o'clock this evening was taken to hear from the platform committee. The committee is now in session.

Convention Hall, St. Louis, July 8.—Tempted by the exciting and interesting events of yesterday's session and hoping to witness equally inspiring scenes today, crowds this morning thronged towards convention hall. By 9 o'clock the galleries were half filled, and when the time came to call the vast assemblage to order there was scarcely a nook or cranny in either balcony which did not hold a specimen of perspiring humanity.

However, the spectators count themselves fortunate to be here and swelter. History makers are the actors, the play is thrilling, and as the great men do their parts on the stage the people listen absently and applaud their favorites vigorously.

At 10:48 today the convention was called to order for its fourth session. Prayer was offered by Rabbi Samuel Sale of St. Louis.

10:53.—The call for the report of the committee on resolutions bringing no response, the roll of states was called for announcement of members of the new national committee.

At 11:10—On motion of Walter Jones, a committee was appointed to wait upon the resolution, committee, and ascertain when it will be able to report.

11:12.—A delegate suggests while waiting for the committee to report, the convention would like to hear from "that silver tongued orator from New York, Bourke Cockran."

11:13.—Cockran was not in the hall, so the crowd called for Charles A. Towne. Towne has refused to speak. Captain Hobson then addressed the convention.

11:15.—To kill time, the roll of honorary vice presidents is being called.

Hon. Walter James of Kentucky, announced that the committee on resolutions will not be able to report until 8 o'clock tonight when they will bring in a unanimous report. Upon receiving this report the convention adjourned until 8 o'clock tonight.

It is now announced that the trust plank which was almost unanimously adopted, declares against interstate traffic in trust-made articles.

It is authoritatively stated that the platform will not have a money plank nor an income tax plank. This was the basis of compromise between Hill and Bryan. There also will probably be no minority report, Mr. Bryan being satisfied.

COMMITTEE

Battles Many Hours Over Platform—Hill and Bryan Clash in Argument Today.

St. Louis, July 8.—One of the greatest fights in the history of American politics is being waged in the committee on resolutions. This committee has been in almost continuous session since Wednesday afternoon. The sub-committee to draft a platform reported to the whole committee at 7 o'clock last night, and since that hour the battle has waged more fiercely than ever. At 7 o'clock this morning the committee was still in session, and Senator Bailey said that it might not complete its labors for many hours.

After four hours of almost constant discussion of the financial plank, during which Senator Daniel, of Virginia, made an attack upon W. J. Bryan so as to call forth a sharp admonition from Acting Chairman Tillman, and in which time many impassioned declarations of impending disaster to the national ticket were indulged in, the committee at 5 o'clock this morning struck from the platform under consideration all reference to the monetary system. The vote was 35 to 15. It was a decisive victory for Bryan and his friends, who had waged a long, aggressive and determined warfare.

Ex-Senator Hill, of New York; Senator Daniel, of Virginia; Senator Carmack, of Tennessee, and Mr. Poe, of Maryland were among those who pleaded earnestly and at times almost pathetically for the retention in the platform of the plank favorably reported to the full committee at 7 o'clock last night.

Bryan, ex-Senator Pettigrew, of South Dakota; Shiveley, of Indiana; and Fleming, of Wisconsin were among the foremost members who advocated absolute silence upon the financial question.

It was after one of Bryan's emphatic declarations against what he considered an attempt at repudiation of the platforms of 1896 and 1900 that Senator Daniel spoke:

"The silver issue was known in Virginia long before Mr. Bryan was born," scathingly declared the senator in his calm, cold and penetrating voice.

"By what right," he continued, "under what pretence of propriety does this man come here to instruct us upon an issue which led us to defeat twice? This man whom the Democratic party has twice highly honored, has seen fit to pick flaws in every candidate proposed for the office to which he twice unsuccessfully aspired. But it seems he has yet to find one in whom he can find aught of good. I say," he continued with great earnestness, "if we are going to wait for a presidential candidate until we find an angel we had better adjourn and go home."

Mr. Bryan, who sat on the opposite side of the table about which the deliberations were being held, flushed deeply. His tightly compressed lips bespoke the effort he was making at self-control. There was a hush in the room.

Daniel was about to continue, when he was ordered to desist.

"The gentleman is out of order," sharply declared Acting Chairman Tillman.

"We cannot permit such personal allusions, such vituperations," Senator Daniel persisted that he meant no disrespect.

He said he thought the time had arrived when all loyal Democrats should be actuated by the purest motives and their actions open to the fullest criticism.

Continuing, he declared his belief that the country stood upon the brink of a great calamity and catastrophe.

"I favored free silver," he said, "but right or wrong, I think the exigencies of the situation demand that we should bow to the wishes of New England and the great Empire State. Heroic situations demand heroic remedies," he shouted. "We should put ourselves in line so as to touch elbows in this great conflict. No self-interest, no right of personal regard or ambition should weigh with any man."

Mr. Shiveley, of Indiana, pleaded that no mention of finance be made in the platform.

"You say the question is settled," he exclaimed. "Then let it remain settled. Why raise it again to cause a rupture in our party? Even the moderate treatment proposed would indicate all too plainly that the silver question is not settled. There are tens of thousands of Democrats in Indiana who would consider such a plank a slap in the face."

Fleming, of Wisconsin, declared that he was there to oppose any reaffirmation of the Kansas City platform, and to oppose any specific declaration on finance.

"Ho! in God's name," he exclaimed, "can you expect to get the votes of millions of people you need if you take such an action?"

"I admire Mr. Hill," he continued,

"I have great respect for him, but I cannot let him lead us into this act of commission without a protest."

Poe, of Maryland, declared that the committee should remember the effect such a deliberate refusal to incorporate a financial plank in the platform would have. "I don't favor the adoption of any resolution which would cause any Democrat to retreat," he said. "I am going to make no personal allusions," he continued. "I will reflect on nobody. I wouldn't vote to repudiate planks which have defeated us. But we should remove all obstacles. We can't get the vote of Maryland without this plank. If it were thought we would disturb the existing monetary standard, we couldn't win."

"I only ask that you give the great interests of the country assurances that they will not be disturbed," he pleaded. "I am slow to believe that the simple declaration that the output of gold has rendered further consideration of the money system unnecessary, would embarrass any one who believes in free silver."

"I tell you what, gentlemen," he said impressively, "if we fail in this duty, it will cost us the electoral vote of many states and our leader will lead a forlorn hope." (Applause.)

Mr. Hill made a strong plea for the plank, declaring that it was in the interests of good government and augured success in the future. He drifted from a discussion of the plank to Judge Parker. He declared that he had known the Judge many years; that he was an able and safe man. "He is not the coward and poltroon some people would have us believe he is," he said. "There is no more loyal man and Democrat in every respect than Judge Parker," he continued. "He has ever supported his party's nominees, and I will say that if this convention sees fit to nominate any other man he will support him and I will go back to my state and work for the party's choice."

The committee on resolutions, after eliminating the sub-committee plank, declaring that financial question is out of politics, decided to leave the question of a satisfactory financial plank to a sub-committee, composed of Bryan, John Sharp Williams and David B. Hill. Unless the committee fails to agree on financial plank, indications point to a unanimous report. On the income plank Bryan received a setback. Hill opposed him.

"Do you mean to say that an income tax plank will result in Democratic defeat in New York?" Bryan jointly asked Hill.

"I don't say that," he replied. "But I do say that it will hurt us."

"The proposed plank was withdrawn, but may be renewed. In his fight for re-affirmation of the Kansas City platform, Bryan was ignominiously routed. In the trust and tariff planks, although those prepared by the sub-committee were adopted as a basis, Bryan won notable victories by securing the adoption of amendments which make the declaration more emphatic and strictly in conformity with the Nebraskan's views.

In the trust plank, Bryan's proposition for prosecutions was incorporated by a vote of 24 to 20. In the labor plank, he and Governor Thomas of Colorado, stood together for an amendment covering the Colorado situation. There is no specific reference to Colorado, but the declaration was so amended that it guarantees the right of a man to work when and where he will, but declaring that there shall be no infliction of punishments, save by due process of law.

Senator Carmack of Tennessee, gave a hard job at Bryan by declaring that while the Nebraskan could see many things to criticize in Parker, he could not find a flaw or have a word of criticism for the greatest imperialist in the country, and the man outside of his party—meaning Hearst.

He said he was ready to support any one for president. He preferred Parker but was not tenacious. Parker, he declared, had got the unanimous endorsement of Tennessee, in which not one cent of Parker money had been spent.

The senator said he did not believe in bowing to one man's will. "I want a firm stand on this question," he exclaimed. "Why not say that the question is outside of party consideration?"

At times the discussion took form of controversial argument, which the acting chairman had to restrain, under demand for order. Bryan spoke frequently, combating the propositions advanced by his fellow workers. He was calm and possessed, but was very earnest.

Later, when Mr. Hill was urging the adoption of the financial plank, Mr. Bryan with sarcasm suggested: "If you want a better Republican than Mr. Roosevelt for your standard bearer on a gold standard platform, why don't you select Grover Cleveland?"

Mr. Bryan withdrew temperately his income plank and the financial plank discussion continues. The bone of contention was the following reported favorably by the sub-committee of 12: "The discoveries of gold within the past few years, and the great increase in the production thereof, adding two thousand million dollars to the world's supply, of which seven hundred million falls to the share of the United States, have contributed to the maintenance of a money standard of value no longer open to question, removing that issue from the field of political contention."

In discussing the trust question Bryan practically made the point that it should be the paramount issue.

PLATFORM

Will Make No Reference to Money or Income Tax—Bryan and Hill Compromise.

St. Louis, July 8.—The committee on resolutions of the Democratic national convention at 5 o'clock this morning, by a vote of 35 to 15, struck out the plank declaring the monetary system no longer a political issue. The fight against the plank was led by W. J. Bryan, who, during the discussion, which at times became quite bitter was verbally assaulted by Senator Daniel, of Virginia. The senator questioned the propriety of a man who had twice led the party to defeat attempting to again dictate the issue upon

SENATOR DANIEL, of Virginia, which these battles were fought and lost.

Shortly before 8 o'clock today word came from the platform committee that the trust plank had been taken up again and that the committee were in another snarl. The trust plank was settled upon earlier in the morning, but a resolution was offered which made it compulsory for corporations before doing business in another state, to file a statement to the effect that it did not propose monopolies. This brought on a new wrangle. Senator Benj. Tillman left the committee at 9 o'clock tired and disgusted. "They are at the trust plank again," he said. "The platform will be a mile long. Hill and Bryan knifed each other terribly. It was awful. Hill is trying to prevent Bryan from presenting a minority report to the convention, so as to preclude a fight there. Hill has kept remarkably cool through it all. I am tired of all their talk and am not going back. Hill and Bryan have been saying this spleen up for years, and now they have let it out they will get along better together."

It is now certain that all reference to the monetary system will be eliminated from the platform.

At 8:30 this morning, after a representative of the territories had been fully heard, the statehood plank was perfected. It demands separate statehood for Arizona and New Mexico and statehood for Oklahoma and Indian Territory, without specifying whether in cases of the latter two it shall be separate or joint statehood.

At 10:10 a. m. the platform committee for the first time since early morning showed some indication of reaching a definite conclusion. It is authoritatively stated that the platform will not have a money plank nor an income tax plank. This was the basis of compromise between Hill and Bryan. There also will probably be no minority report, Bryan being satisfied.

The platform committee has decided that trusts must be subject to examination, and must prove, if necessary, that they are not in violation of the interstate commerce law. To prevent tax plank. This was the basis of a restriction of trade capital stock must be paid up in full.

At 11:37 the platform committee announced that a unanimous report will be submitted at 8 o'clock tonight. No minority report will be made. The platform committee have not had anything to eat since last night and a weary appearance of the members is indicative of the protracted and hard struggle. One member facetiously remarked that starvation would settle all complex questions in a very short period.

Following is a draft of the platform prepared by the sub-committee on resolutions. In this will be found the money plank which has been eliminated:

SUB-COMMITTEE ON RESOLUTIONS.

St. Louis, July 8.—The sub-committee on the committee on resolutions spent the entire day in perfecting the details of the Democratic platform, concluding at 5 o'clock. The draft of the platform prepared by the sub-committee follows:

"We, the delegates of the Democratic party of the United States, in national convention assembled, declare our devotion to the essential principles of the Democratic faith which bring us together in party communion.

"Under them local self government, and national unity and prosperity were alike established. They underlie our independence, the structure of our free republic, and every Democratic extension from Louisiana to California and Texas to Oregon, which preserves faithfully in all the states the tie between taxation and representation.

"They yet inspire the masses of our people, guarding jealously their rights and liberties and cherishing their fraternity, peace and orderly development.

"They remind us of our duties and responsibilities as citizens and impress upon us, particularly at this time, the necessity of reform and the rescue of the administration of government from the headstrong arbitrary and spasmodic methods which distract business and uncertainty, and pervade the public mind with dread, distrust and perturbation.

Leading Principles.

"The application of these two fundamental principles to the living issues of the day constitutes the first step toward the assured peace and safety and progress of our nation. Freedom of the press, of conscience and of speech; equality before the law of all citizens; the right of trial by jury, freedom of the person defended by the writ of habeas corpus; liberty of personal contract untrammelled by sumptuary laws; the supremacy of the civil over military authority; a well-disciplined militia; the separation of church and state; economy in expenditures; low taxes, that labor may be lightly burdened; the prompt and sacred fulfillment of public and private obligations; fidelity to treaties, peace and friendship with all nations; entangling alliances with none; absolute acquiescence in the will of the majority; the vital principle of republics—these are

SHORTAGE

IN THE COMMERCIAL BANK AT CAMBRIDGE

Will Amount, It Is Thought, to $150,000—Bank to Pay Probably Five Per Cent.

Cambridge, O., July 8.—Every day the size of the Commercial bank failure in this city grows apace and it is now believed that the shortage will reach $150,000, and will not pay five per cent of its indebtedness. Cashier Patterson and Vice President Barber are still at large and nothing concerning their whereabouts has been learned.

The premeditated wholesale robbery has financially embarrassed quite a number of their friends who had explicit confidence in them. It is the opinion of many in this city that Judge Barber, who associated with the absconding bank officials in business matters, knows the whereabouts of them but if this is true he has failed to give out anything concerning them and the matter is open for conjecture.

It is reported that a liberal reward will be offered soon by the county commissioners, the city of Cambridge and private individuals for the arrest and return of the robbers. Just what the amount will be has not been determined, but will probably be $2,000. The Commercial bank receivers are busy settling up the bank books, which are said to be in an awful condition, badly mixed and difficult to understand. New law suits are being commenced daily against the bank and its officials.

The most unique case is that brought by John S. LePage vs. Leonard Orme, William Moss, Charles H. Bell, directors, and Dwight Scott, assistant cashier, and Paul Keyes, teller, for the sum of $197.50, the amount he alleges to have had on deposit when the bank failed. The action is brought under the statute relating to torts. The defendants are charged with negligence.

BANK RECEIVERS INSTITUTE SUITS

Akron, O., July 8.—Wm. Buchtel and George W. Steber, receivers of the Akron Savings bank, have instituted suits against Aaron Wagener, cashier, for $12,222.32; J. A. Arbogast, for $15,000; Will A. Houston, for $650; Albert T. Paige and John C. Bloomfield, for $500, and two others for smaller amounts, all for money borrowed from the bank. This is the bank whose directors were sued Tuesday.

MILLS CLOSED

Pittsburg, July 8.—Operations have been suspended at the four steel hoop plants at the Carnegie Steel company, two at Youngstown and one each at Girard and Trenton. These are the only works of the big steel concern that have been under the wage scale of the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers. All the other plants of the company are operated on a strictly non-union basis.

The officers of the association regard the shutdown of the mills as a lockout, but the company has not declared that it will not reopen the wage conference when it is ready to resume operations.

KANSAS FLOOD

Kansas City, July 8.—Armourdale, the packing suburb of Kansas City, Kas., has been practically deserted, most of the 5,000 citizens having been driven from their homes by the overflow of the Kaw river for the second time in 12 months.

Oklahoma City, O. T., July 8.—A water spout at Clinton caused the death of six people.

WAR BULLETIN.

Chifu, July 8.—A trustworthy Chinaman who has arrived from Port Arthur reports that Fort No. 16 of the main line of defense was captured by the Japanese Wednesday.

A message from Russian sources states that the officials claim to have wiped out three Japanese regiments last week.

CONVENTION

doctrines which Democracy has established as proverbs of the nation and they should be constantly invoked, preached, resorted to and enforced.

For Economy.

"1. Large reductions can readily be made in the annual expenditures of the government without impairing the efficiency of any branch of the public service, and we shall insist upon the strictest economy and frugality compatible with efficient civil, military and naval administration as a right of the people, too clear to be denied or withheld.

"2. The enforcement of honesty in the public service and to that end a thorough legislative investigation of those executive departments of the government already known to teem with corruption, as well as other departments suspected of harboring corruption, and the punishment of ascertained corruptionists without fear or favor or regard to persons. The persistent and deliberate refusal of both senate and house of representatives to permit such investigation to be made by either branch of congress demonstrates that only by a change in the executive and in the house of representatives can complete exposure, punishment and conviction be obtained.

Executive Only.

"In broader furtherance of that end, the federal government should not permit itself to be robbed by entering into contracts with convicted trusts or unlawful combinations in restraint of interstate trade, existing in violation of law.

"We believe that one of the best methods of procuring economy and honesty in the public service is to have public officials, from the occupant of the White House down to the lowest of them, return, as nearly as may be to Jeffersonian simplicity of living.

"3. We favor the nomination and election of a president, trained in the ways of the constitution, who shall set his face sternly against executive usurpation of legislative and judicial functions, whether that usurpation be ruled under the guise of executive construction of existing laws or whether it take refuge in the tyrant's plea of necessity of superior wisdom.

Change Tariff.

"4. The Democratic party has been and will continue to be the consistent opponent of that class of tariff legislation by which certain interests have been permitted, through Congressional favor, to draw a heavy tribute from the American people. This monstrous perversion of those equal opportunities, under which our political institutions were established, has caused what may once have been infant industries to become the greatest combinations of capital that the world has ever known.

"These publicly favored enterprises have through trust methods been converted into monopolies, thus bringing to an end domestic competition, which was the only check upon the extravagant profits made possible by the protective system.

"These industrial combinations, by the financial assistance they can give, now control the policy of the Republican party.

"We favor a wise, conservative and business-like revision and a gradual reduction of the tariff by the friends of the masses and for the common weal, and not by the friends of its abuse, its extortions and its discriminations, keeping in view the ultimate end of equality of burdens and equality of opportunities and the constitutional purpose of raising a revenue by taxation, to wit: The support of the federal government in all its integrity and virility, but in simplicity, and keeping also in view, as men of common sense should, existing conditions however wrongfully, mistakenly or unjustly brought about, and the danger to the cause of tariff reform itself of abrupt and revolutionary reversal of policy."

To Reduce Tariff.

We should bear in mind, in short, these two things:

"First, the general principle that the sole derivation of the power of taxation is the support of the federal government, economically, effectively and constitutionally administered, and, second, the equal truth that in the assertion of any general principle and in reaching any ultimate end however sacred and logically unavoidable, due regard, but only due regard, must and should be paid to actually existing conditions.

"5. We favor the reduction of tariff taxation upon trust-produced articles to the point where foreign competition may enter the American market whenever trust and combines, seeking monopoly, raise their prices to the American consumer above a reasonable and just profit, by such reduction depriving trusts and monopolies of the power to extort from the American people, under shelter of American law prices higher than those charged foreigners for identical articles.

Money Question No Issue.

"The discoveries of gold within the past few years and the great increase in the production thereof, adding two thousand million dollars to the world's supply, of which seven hundred million falls to the share of the United States, has contributed to the maintenance of a money standard of value, no longer open to question removing that issue from the field of political contention.

"Our party having long, earnestly advocated the construction of inter-oceanic canal for the purposes of national defense and commerce between the states and with foreign nations, we favor the early completion of the isthmian canal.

"But while making this declaration and accepting the results as an accomplished and irreversible fact, we cannot too forcibly express our disapproval of the methods by which, in disregard to the usages and obligations of international law and treaty obligations, the canal route has been acquired, or too solemnly record our hope that this precedent of defiant diplomacy may never be used against us to our humiliation and injury.

To Control Trusts.

"We recognize that the gigantic trust and combinations designed to enable capital to secure more than its just share of the joint product of capital and labor, and which have been fostered and protected under Republican rule, are a menace to beneficial competition and an obstacle to permanent business prosperity.

"We demand the vigorous and impartial enforcement of the laws already made to prevent and control such trusts and combinations, and we favor such further legislation in restraint thereof as experience shows to be necessary.

"Corporations chartered by authority of the people must forever remain subject to regulation in the interest of the people. A private monopoly is indefensible and intolerable.

"We recognize the right of capital, in all legitimate lines of enterprise, to combine for the increase of business, for enlarging productive capacity and for decreasing the cost of production; but when such combination in its purpose or effect, creates or tends to create a monopoly in its productions, to restrain trade, or to stifle competition; to increase cost to the consumer or to control the market, it violates the spirit of our laws, becomes inimical to public welfare and peace, and should be so regulated controlled or prohibited by law as to amply protect the public interests.

Turn to Democrats.

"We demand that the restraint of such illegal combinations be entrusted to the Democratic party which is not responsible for their existence and which has ever protested against their continuance.

"We condemn the Republican system of legislation under which trust monopolies are enabled to exact higher prices for the manufactured products from our own people than they sell them for abroad.

"We demand an enlargement of the powers of the interstate commerce commission, to the end that the traveling public and shippers of this country may have prompt and adequate relief for the abuses they are subjected to in the matter of transportation.

"We favor the maintenance of the Monroe doctrine in its full integrity.

Canadian Treaty.

"We favor a liberal trade treaty with Canada.

"We favor the reduction of the army expenditure to the point, historically demonstrated to be safe and sufficient.

"We favor the maintenance and liberal annual increase of the navy as our best defense in our isolated continental condition against a foreign foe, and a source of possible danger to our liberties as a people.

Capital and Labor

"We favor the enactment and administration of laws, giving labor and capital impartially their just rights. Capital and labor ought not to be enemies. Each is necessary to the other. Each has its rights, but the rights of labor are certainly no less 'voted,' no less 'sacred' and no less 'inalienable' than the rights of capital.

Protect Citizens.

"We pledge ourselves to insist upon the just and lawful protection of our citizens at home and abroad, and to use all proper measures to secure for them, whether native born or naturalized, and without distinction of race or creed, the equal protection of laws and the enjoyment of all rights and privileges open to them under the covenants of our treaties of friendship and commerce, and if under existing treaties the right of travel and sojourn is denied to American citizens or recognition is withheld from American passports by any countries on the ground of race or creed we favor the beginning of negotiations with the governments of such countries to secure by new treaties the removal of these unjust discriminations.

Pension Issue

"The Democracy would secure to the surviving soldiers and sailors and their dependents generous pensions, not by arbitrary executive order, but by legislation which a grateful people stand ready to enact.

"Our soldiers and sailors, who defend with their lives the constitution and the laws, have a sacred interest in their just administration. They must therefore share with us the humiliation with which we have witnessed the exaltation of court favorites, without distinguished service, over the scarred heroes of many battles; or asgrandered by executive appropriations out of the treasuries of a prostrate people, in violation of the act of congress which fixes the compensation and allowances of the military officers.

"We denounce the ship subsidy bill recently passed by the United States senate as an iniquitous appropriation of public funds for private purposes and a wasteful, illogical and useless attempt to overcome by subsidy the obstructions raised by Republican legislation to the growth and development of American commerce on the sea.

For Civil Service.

"We favor the upbuilding of a merchant marine without new or additional burdens upon the people, and without bounties from the public treasury.

"The Democratic party stands committed to the principles of civil service reform, and we demand their honest, just and impartial enforcement.

"We denounce the Republican party for its continuous and sinister encroachments upon the spirit and operation of civil service rules whereby it has arbitrarily dispensed with examinations for office in the interests of favorites and employed all manner of devices to overreach and set aside the principles upon which the civil service was established.

Condemn Polygamy.

"We demand the extermination of polygamy within the jurisdiction of the United States, and the complete separation of church and state in political affairs.

"We congratulate our Western citizens upon the passage of the measure known as the Newlands irrigation act for the irrigation and reclamation of the arid lands of the West—a measure framed by a Democrat, passed in the senate by a non-partisan vote and passed in the house against the opposition of almost all the Republican leaders by a vote, the majority of which was Democratic. We call attention to this great Democratic measure, broad and comprehensive as it is, working automatically throughout all time without further action of congress, until the reclamation of all the lands in the arid West capable of reclamation is accomplished, reserving the lands reclaimed for home seekers in small tracts, and rigidly guarding against land monopoly, as an evidence of the policy of domestic development contemplated by the Democratic party should it be placed in power.

Oppose Colonialism.

"We favor the preservation, insofar as we can, of an open door for the world's commerce in the Orient without unnecessary entanglement in Oriental and European affairs and without arbitrary, unlimited, irresponsible and absolute government anywhere within our jurisdiction.

"We oppose as fervently as did George Washington himself, an indefinite, irresponsible, discretionary and vague absolutism and a policy of colonial exploitation, no matter where or by whom invoked or exercised; we believe with Thomas Jefferson and John Adams that no government has a right to make one set of laws for those 'at home' and another and a different set of laws absolute in their character for those 'in the colonies.'

"All men under the American flag are entitled to the protection of the institutions whose emblem the flag is; if they are inherently unfit for those institutions then they are inherently unfit to be members of the American body politic. Wherever there may exist a people incapable of being governed under American laws, in consonance with the American constitution, the territory of that people ought not to be part domain.

Give Independence.

"We insist that we ought to do for the Filipinos what we have already done for the Cubans. And it is our intent, as soon as it can be done wisely and safely, for the Filipinos themselves, and after amicable arrangements with them concerning naval stations, coaling stations and trade relations, and upon suitable guarantees of protection to all national and international interests to set the Filipino people upon their feet, free and independent, to work out their own destiny.

"The endeavor of the secretary of war, by pledging the government's endorsement for 'promoters' in the Philippine Islands to make the United States a paragon in speculative exploitation of the archipelago, which was only temporarily held up by the opposition of Democratic senators, will, if successful, lead to a permanent entanglement from which it will be difficult to escape.

"We favor statehood for Oklahoma and the Indian Territory, statehood for Arizona, statehood for New Mexico and a territorial government for Porto Rico.

"We favor the election of United States senators by direct vote of the people."

BRYAN SPEECH

For Minority Credentials Report Failed of Effect—Demonstration for Judge Parker.

St. Louis, July 8.—The convention yesterday afternoon adopted the report of the committee on rules, credentials and permanent organization, adjourning at 6:20 p. m. until 10 today.

The chief speech of the afternoon was that of Mr. Bryan in an effort to overthrow the report of the credentials committee and seat the contesting delegation from Illinois.

The controversy ended by the rejection of the minority report of the committee by a vote of 641 yeas to 299 nays. Though Mr. Bryan's speech was loudly cheered and a big ovation was given the Nebraska, he turned few votes. The alignment of the delegates proved the correctness of previous estimates of the division between those who favor the radicals and those who are supporting the conservative element.

The Bryan ovation was followed by a great demonstration for the New York jurist, A. B. Parker. The Parker forces turned the tide so that the favorite candidate for the nomination finally reaped the harvest of enthusiasm sown for Mr. Bryan.

BOOMS

Of Various Men for the Vice Presidency—Turner, of Washington, is Leading So Far.

St. Louis, July 8.—Aside from the movement in behalf of George Turner, of Washington, there is no well defined vice presidential boom. A flurry resulted from the report that James H. Eckels, of Illinois, had begun an active fight for Judge Harmon, but the Harmon people declared the story absurd and asserted that Judge Harmon had already positively and finally declined to accept anything but first place on the ticket.

There is a good deal of talk favorable to Representative J. R. Williams, of Illinois, and throughout the day he was next to Turner, perhaps the most frequently mentioned of the long list of vice presidential possibilities. The Washington delegation was confident of the nomination of its favorite but many of the middle West delegates declared themselves opposed to the selection of a man from the far West.

Adlai E. Stevenson, of Illinois, Mr. Bryan's last running mate, was talked of for a time but it was declared that he would not accept the nomination. The Indiana delegation was divided in sentiment or as to what its position would be if the nomination were to go to that state. John W. Kern and B. F. Shively both former gubernatorial candidates, were being mildly boomed by the Indians, as was also Major G. V. Menzies.

In addition to the men already named there was, in the various delegations, talk of Joseph W. Folk, of Missouri; David Rose, of Wisconsin; Samuel Alschuler, a former Illinois gubernatorial candidate; James Kilbourne, of Ohio; Governor Dockery, of Missouri; and Edward C. Wall, of Michigan.

SCENES IN VLADIVOSTOK

Former Resident Tells of Terror When War Broke Out.

CORNERS IN WHEAT AND OIL.

Excitement When Japanese Shelled the Russian Town—Faith in the Czar's Army—Submarine Boats En Route to the Continent—Disaffection of Russians Over the War.

These are but early days in the history of the great racial struggle now being waged for supremacy in the Orient. Hitherto the story has been mainly told through the medium of the submarine cables, says a writer in the London News, but the other day I had the privilege of an interview with an Englishman who has spent several months within the troubled area and from which he recently returned.

He was in Vladivostok before the outbreak of hostilities and has told me of the serenity which possessed men when war was deemed impossible, of the consternation when it appeared imminent and of the absolute terror when it actually broke out. Not the least interesting part of his story was that which shows how the love of money transcends even that of human life, how "corners" were made in wheat and kerosene and famine stared the people in the face. This latter commodity was bought up in large quantities by the Chinese traders and retailed in eight gallon cases at 5 rubles each, a little more than $2.50. The commandant of the Vladivostok forces, however, spoiled this little artifice of fixing the price of meat, wheat, kerosene and various other necessities of life, a standard from which no deviation was allowed.

"How did the populace receive the proclamation of war?" I asked.

"Well, at first the people were terror-stricken. They fled in all directions—from the coast. Some went to Harbarovsk, others to Blagovestchensk, and not a few to Nikolskussirsk, but the hardships were many, and most of them soon returned. The chief difficulty was with regard to food. At first all was right. Then the government took all the meat, save a small quantity of pork, for the troops, and we had to live on almost vegetarian diet. Sheep will not live in Vladivostok. It is strange, but quite true. You may imagine how short we were running when I say that the Daini-Yostok, one of the two Vladivostok papers, came out printed on brown paper, all the white paper being used up.

"I shall never forget the bombardment, which commenced on March 6, about 2 o'clock in the day Japanese shells came raining into the town. Many of them went high and struck the hills at the back of the town. Others fell in the streets, but failed to explode. One did strike a house 200 yards from where I lived; this killed an old woman who lay ill in bed. The town was saved, I think, by high sighting on the part of the Japanese gunners and to the bad ammunition. During the bombardment a number of ladies ran about the streets weeping and wringing their hands, but the real damage done was very slight."

"And how ran public opinion at this period?"

"The people pinned their faith to the Russian army. Never once do I remember their accepting a report of a Russian defeat, official or otherwise. Kurogatkina was a hero; he was exceedingly popular. Alexeff they would not have at all. Poor Makaroff; he was a man after their own heart. I shall never forget the real grief which was exhibited when the news of his death arrived. Russian officials were very busy just about that time too. I was in a restaurant on more than one occasion when a Russian officer bade us stop conversing in English. Conversing in public had to be in the Russian language or not at all. One queer thing I ought to mention was that the Chinese coolies resident in the town were refused railway tickets. As the only other way out was to walk many thousands of miles in an inhospitable country it was a capital scheme for keeping them in the place. The bulk of the manual labor in Vladivostok is carried on by the Chinese."

"Had you any difficulty in getting away?"

"None, except that they would not book me through to Moscow. My first ticket took me to Pogradich; from there I renewed to Harbin, thence to Manchuria station, where I finally got a through ticket to Moscow."

"I left Vladivostok at 8:15 a. m. on May 18, and we went slow to Irkutsk; from there, however, the express trains are again running to Moscow. I arrived at Irkutsk at about 5 p. m. on May 27. When about a day's journey from Tainoi, the station at which passengers disembark in order to cross Lake Baikal, we stopped at a station, the name of which I forget. Standing in it was a train consisting of ten wagons, upon which were being conveyed five boats, which were, as far as I could see, Russian submarines. Each boat was loaded upon two trucks, and was, I think, about sixty feet long. Amidships was a manhole, just as you see in a British submarine, with a hand rail around it; forward was a hood with an appliance which might have been a periscope.

"All the boats are exactly alike, fitted with one torpedo tube only (in the bow) and a propeller with two blades. Each boat was painted a bright red. A Russian marine was on guard with fixed bayonet over each of the vessels, and on one man's cap I noticed the Russian equivalent to 'Torpedo Fleet.' In reply to the question whether the craft were torpedo boats or submarines the man simply replied, 'Ya ne znaiu' (I do not know). At Oby Station, which is the other side of Lake Baikal, we passed a similarly laden train, each of the vessels being identical with the first batch. I noticed also at Oby Station several large guns, possibly six inch, all going south."

"How did you find traveling on the Siberian railway?"

"Traveling is fairly comfortable. It would be much more so if one could have meals prepared on board. As it is, each passenger on starting has to purchase a kettle, a teapot, sugar and tea. At every railway station boiling water is supplied free."

"Is there much of what I might call 'military display' along the Trans-Siberian route?"

"Well, from Vladivostok to Irkutsk there was a soldier to every verst (less than a mile) of railway; at each station there were many. On an average a train passed us every two hours, every one of which was either a transport or a Red Cross train. A great number of them also carried horses and artillery. After Irkutsk we saw the first passenger train."

"When did you arrive in Moscow?"

"Last Saturday week, and I stopped there for six days. During that time I paid several visits to various old Russian families, friends of mine. It struck me rather strangely to hear them say they had never known such unpatriotic feelings exhibited in Russia as during the past few months. Everywhere the people are discontented at the turn affairs have taken, and each of my friends was free, as free as one can be in Russia, in expressing a hope that this war would be a lesson to Russian arrogance and tend to make them more prepared in the future."

NO GUESSING BY JAPAN.

Arrangements for Army Supplies Well Nigh Perfect.

Nothing should give the friends of Japan more confidence than the way the detail of supply is being managed, says the London Mail. The arrangements are the more noteworthy because of the contrast supplied by the other side. The Russians sent their cavalry from Manchuria into Korea hampered by baggage wagons and having to depend mainly upon what they could immediately gather from the people. At every step their troops had to stop to hunt for fodder.

The Japanese have gone to work in different style. Long ago they started Korean language classes in Tokyo for picked soldiers. While some of the best Japanese officers were making their way to Mongolia to organize and train the so called robber bands there—who are now, many of them, practically Japanese irregular cavalry in disguise—others went all over northern Korea.

Men living as Koreans, speaking the language as natives, regarded by even the natives as people of their own race, were in every district. The Japanese knew not merely every road, but apparently every person.

Thus, when fighting came, they knew the land, while the Russians, living on its borders, did not. Every Japanese officer has his map of the part he is working in. The Russians, apparently, have had to make their maps as they go, for the first Russian scouting expeditions have been accompanied by staff officers who drew plans and sketched maps as they went.

The Russians have had difficulty in obtaining reliable interpreters and, if report speaks true, have been utterly misled more than once by the stories carried to them by Koreans. The Japanese have their own people trained for that purpose.—London Mail.

SWISS TRAVEL NOVELTIES.

Trunks May Be Sent by Post Throughout the Land.

Consul Washington, at Geneva, calls the attention of American travelers to the very inexpensive tickets which permit the holder to travel throughout Switzerland upon most of its railways and lake steamers at will for periods of from fifteen to thirty days, says the New York World.

These tickets are obtainable at all large railway and boat stations in Switzerland. They may be ordered through any station. A delay of from one to two days is usual, and a photograph is required.

The tickets permit continuous and unlimited travel at will during the period of their validity upon most of the railways and lakes in Switzerland, and upon some fifteen of the small roads not embraced in the ticket privilege (usually funicular roads) a reduction of from 20 to 50 per cent upon usual fares is extended.

It is a useful point of information for travelers that trunks may be sent by post throughout the country and thus may be delivered at hotels to wait the arrival of owners. This is a practical plan for medium sized and small trunks and valises. The trunks must be sent to the postoffice, but are delivered on their arrival.

Society Girls as Miners.

Two society girls of St. Louis, Madge Pickler and Grace Kepford, daughters of prominent families, have come to Colorado to develop mining claims and are now in camp at St. Peter's Dome, near Pike's peak, says a Colorado Springs dispatch. They will not handle pick and shovel, but have purchased overalls and jumpers and say they will wear them whenever they find them more convenient than skirts and shirt waists in superintending work on their claims. The site where the young women have set their stakes is close to the Colorado Springs-Cripple Creek railroad, and several promising ore bodies have been uncovered there within the past few months.

Last year we received 10,000 testimonials from afflicted people cured by LIFE PLANT.

Mr. F. Sheperd, of 155 Burton St., Glenville, Ohio, writes under date of April 17th, 1903:

Gentlemen:—I have been afflicted with rheumatism all my life, until a few months ago, when a friend recommended LIFE PLANT, and after taking three bottles of it, I was relieved. I cheerfully recommend it to any one who is afflicted with rheumatism. Yours truly, F. SHEPHERD, No. 155 Burton St.

Mrs. Ed. Jones, of Logansport, Ind., writes under date of Aug. 23, 1903:

Dear Sir:—I have just purchased a second bottle of your medicine (LIFE PLANT) and I take pleasure in stating that the previous bottle bought did me a great deal of good. I have been doctoring with four different doctors, and the one bottle of LIFE PLANT did me more good than the four doctors did and at a great deal less cost. MRS. ED. JONES.

LIFE PLANT cures Rheumatism, Catarrh and Kidney Trouble in all its forms. No matter how severe your case or how long standing we guarantee that LIFE PLANT will cure you. Your own druggist will refund your money if it fails. Write for free booklet and further particulars to

WEDDINGS.

TO LIVE IN NEWARK.

A double wedding, in which the two daughters of Mr. and Mrs. James Dickson, who live near Sonora, were the brides, was performed about 9 o'clock Thursday evening at the home of George W. Sims, uncle of the brides, on East Elm street, Zanesville.

One couple was Miss Mary C. Dickson and Washington H. Smith and the other Miss Teresa V. Dickson and William H. Vincent. The officiating minister was Rev. T. Byron Caldwell, pastor of the Market Street Baptist church.

Mr. Smith is a young farmer who lives near Sonora and is a sterling young man. Mr. and Mrs. Smith will live at the home of the bride's parents.

Mr. Vincent is a steam shovel engineer, who is employed at Waterford at the present time. Mr. and Mrs. Vincent will reside in Newark.

WEDDING A SURPRISE.

The marriage of Dale Kuhn, a former Mansfield young man, now a druggist of Utica, and Miss Grace Skiles, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George M. Skiles, of Shelby, Tuesday was a complete surprise to their friends. They were married by the Rev. T. A. Cosgrove of Newark. After the wedding they sent a telegram to Sheiby relatives announcing the nuptials.

RUNAWAY

In Which Several People Were Injured—Mrs. Thurston Receives a Sad Message.

Mrs. J. W. Thurston, of North Fourth street, has received word from her nephew, Rev. Ross Kildow, at Pittsville, Wis., of a frightful runaway. Mr. Kildow, wife and three children and Mrs. Kildow's mother were out driving, when they met an automobile, which frightened the horses. They started to run, when Mr. Kildow was thrown from the buggy, bruising him considerably. The women became so frightened that they tossed the children out of the buggy and then jumped out themselves, while the horses were running at a terrible rate. One of the boys had his arm broken, while the other boy's arm was broken and he was hurt about the head. Mrs. Kildow was severely bruised, while her mother's arm was broken and her back hurt. The little girl escaped any serious injury. Mrs. Kildow's mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Hicks, died from her injuries.

SKELETON

FOUND BY MEN EXCAVATING ON MAIN STREET.

Levi Ferguson identifies the Bones as Those of a Man Killed Here in 1834.

Friday while workmen were excavating on the rear of the Dr. King property on West Main street they unearthed the skeleton of a man, and many were the conjectures as how it had come to be buried in this unusual place.

There is probably but one person in Newark who is able to throw any light on the matter, and that person is Levi Ferguson the contractor. Mr. Ferguson told the Advocate that some 25 years ago in conversation with "Uncle" John Johnson, one of the early settlers of Newark, who was an uncle of Edward Haughey, he said that on July 4, 1834, Newark had a great celebration. One of the attractions was a horse race, which was run from the old grave yard to the public square and then during the race one of the horses fell and threw his rider, who was killed. The man was buried where the skeleton was found today. Many years ago the place was called the "old grave yard" but Mr. Ferguson says that Mr. Johnson informed him that the man killed in the horse race on that memorable Fourth of July, was the only person ever buried there.

The skull found today was covered with a heavy growth of gray hair, and several brass buttons were found by the bones. Dr. C. F. Legge took charge of the skull.

IN PRISON

Before night Harry P. Scott, former assistant cashier and one of the best known young men of Newark, a man whose family stands high in the community, will be within the walls of the Ohio penitentiary, where unless he receives pardon from the President of the United States, he must remain until May 20, 1905.

Mr. Scott received a sentence of thirteen months in the federal court at Columbus but by good behavior (this sentence may be reduced to a term of ten months and twelve days.

Harry Scott is a federal prisoner because of the violation of the national bank laws, having been indicted at the December term of court for assisting in the alteration of the books of the Peoples National Bank of this city.

Mr. Scott makes no denial of the fact that he violated the law by permitting another to have access to the bank at night for the purpose of making alterations on the books but he pleads extenuation for the following reasons:

First—Scott did not permit the alteration of the books for the purpose of robbing the bank, but to recover money that had been previously taken from the bank.

Second—Scott by his unlawful act, succeeded in the recovery of a large sum of money to the bank in which his father-in-law, Benjamin Franklin, has a large financial interest, Mr. Franklin being president of said bank.

Third—Scott did not profit financially from the transaction.

Fourth—Scott, believing his friend's shortage to be less than $7,000, was persuaded that the stolen money could be rightfully restored to the bank.

Fifth—Scott and Hoover had been intimate friends from boyhood. Scott alone knew of Hoover's shortage. He permitted Hoover to alter the books and return the money to save his friend from disgrace.

Scott was in New York when the agitation was at its height and had opportunity to leave the country if he desired to do so. Instead, he promptly returned home to face the charge, saying that he was ready to take the punishment that was due.

Scott is guilty of a violation of the law but there are many who declare that he has already been severely punished. The Advocate knows that a very great majority of people would rejoice at his release and the man-roth petition asking the President to pardon him, signed voluntarily by hundreds of people including representatives from every Newark bank and nearly every leading business man, is in itself evidence of the public sentiment.

The application for pardon has not yet been presented to the President but it will be taken to Washington soon. When Mr. Scott is freed from prison, whether it be tomorrow or next spring, he can return to Newark and here at his old home the whole community will extend its hand in welcome.

The Weather Man.

There is no man in Chicago who is so much ridiculed and so highly prized as the weather man. He is the butt of all the jokes and sneers that witty people can invent and the highly esteemed "guide, philosopher and friend" of hard-headed business men. He is laughed at and even abused until life and property are at stake or until personal discomfort becomes unendurable, and then he is cherished as the world's only hope.

"Says it will be fair weather today, does he? Then I will take my umbrella." This is what the man says who, when he picks up the newspaper, looks through it first of all to see the weather report. He is like the dog that bites the hand that feeds him. If the weather report is so unreliable why look at it?

The people who ridicule the weather man ought to be condemned to answer his telephone for a day or two. This telephone rings from morning till night and until after the office closes. The lake captain wants to know exactly what are the chances of a blow on the lake. The merchant who wants to ship a carload of perishable goods 500 miles wants to know what are the chances that they will be spoiled by the heat or frozen by the cold. The dry goods man who is thinking of spending $1,500 on advertisements for the next day wishes to be informed whether the weather will be too wet for the women to go shopping. A large picnic party solicits somewhat similar information. Whenever there is a holiday or a great event of any kind approaching all eyes turn to the weather man. The next day, though, there has been no disappointment, the weather wits get to work again.

As to the benefits of the weather bureau no statistics are possible, but there is good reason to believe that it is instrumental in saving enough property every day in the year to pay the expenses of the bureau for a whole year. Property is more considered than life, but it may be added that the bureau is also the greatest life-saving station the government has.

There are two reasons why the weather man's reports are underrated. People forget that these reports are not absolute predictions, but only "indications." They ought at least to give the poor man credit for modesty. In the second place, they ought to remember that his "indications" cover an immense territory, consisting generally of one or more states, so that they may be verified in three-quarters of his territory while the people in the other quarter wonder why he cannot "guess better." Even when he speaks of Chicago alone the same thing frequently happens. A shower of rain will fall on the north side while the dust is flying on the south side.

Do not be too hard on the weather man. Do not shoot him; he is doing the best he can. His science is in its infancy. Give him a chance.—Chicago Chronicle.

Sentences from Champ Clark's Speech.

There never was more mendacity packed into the same space in any document purporting to be a grave state paper than in the Republican platform.

We wish to restore this country to a government of the people for the people and by the people, rather than a government of the classes, for the classes and by the classes.

We insist that all evildoers of whatever degree be driven from the public service and properly punished, and that trusts be proceeded against by indictment as are common criminals.

No man ever found himself in worse political company than does President Roosevelt in this year of grace.

The whole Republican party should be sent to the penitentiary for getting property under false pretenses.

Our boys are running off to face death in the Klondike when the oceans of the world contain a million Klondikes if the Republican party would permit us to work them.

We have seen the strange spectacle of three of the chief trust magnates of the land securing the appointment to the senate of Attorney General Knox.

The President is very much pleased that Knox agreed to the transfer, which looks like he is glad to get rid of him.

MR. HORNER SAVED A TRAIN

Seeing the Weakened Condition of the Vanatta Bridge Abutment He Ran Up the Track and Flagged East Bound Passenger.

Mr. A. W. Horner, a well known gentleman of St. Louisville, deserves credit for preventing a disastrous wreck on the Baltimore and Ohio railway at Vanatta Thursday morning.

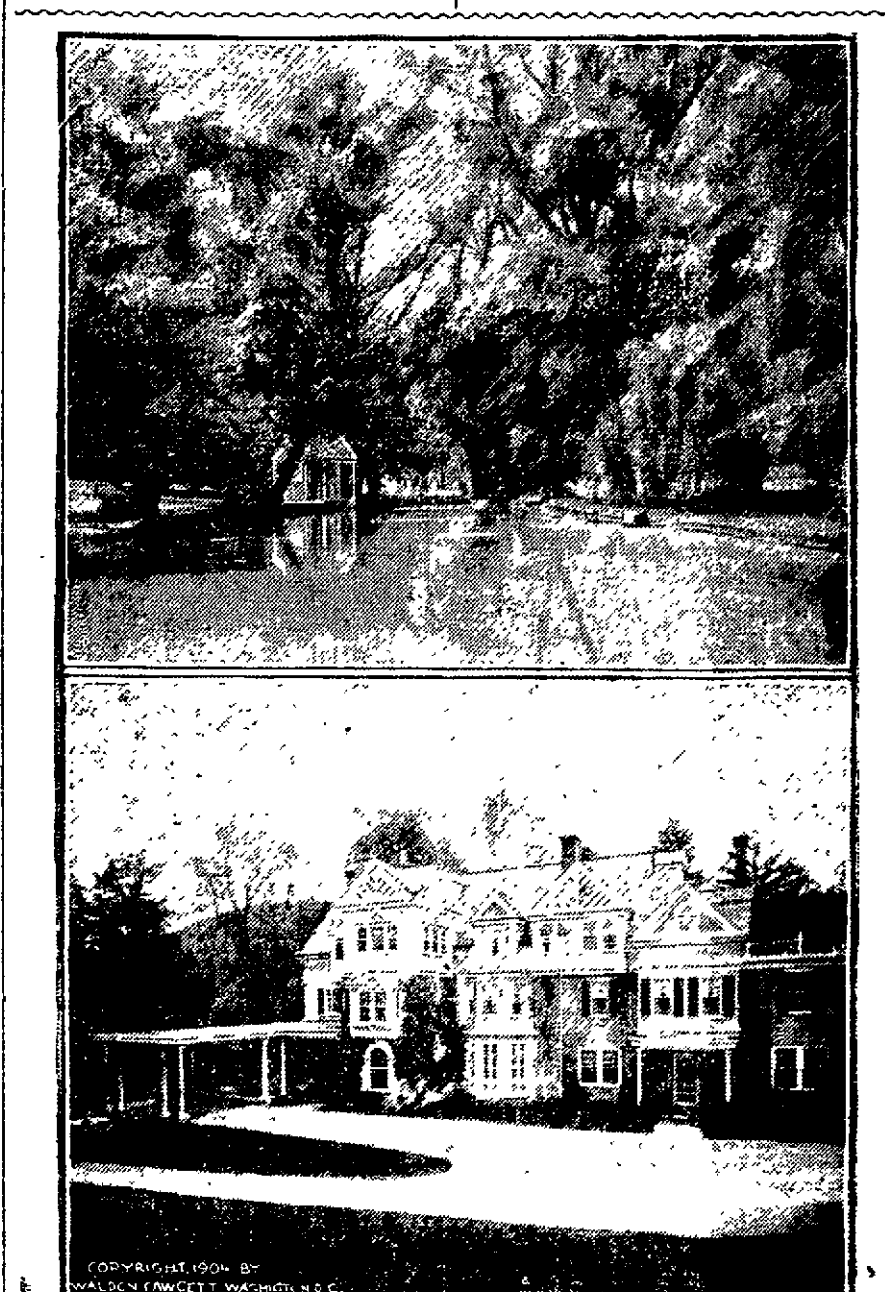

Mr. Horner happened to be passing near the Vanatta bridge over Dry creek early in the morning just as a freight train crossed the bridge. He noticed that one of the abutments was giving way under the force of the heavy flood and realizing that the east bound passenger train No. 14 was about due, pitched his hat and started up the track to flag the train. By standing in the middle of the track and frantically waving his hands the engineer stopped the train and inquired the trouble. For answer Mr. Horner took the engineer and conductor to the bridge which was only a short distance away and showed the dangerous condition of the structure.

The trainmen and passengers were profuse in their expression of gratitude to Mr. Horner and all realized that the train would in all probability have been plunged into the creek if it had attempted to cross the bridge. Only a short time before two freights had passed over the bridge and this had so weakened one abutment that it was manifestly unsafe.

After the trainmen had telephoned to the Newark office an order was given to send the train back to Mt. Vernon and detour it by way of Columbus over the C. A. and C. road.

Mr. Wm. Hulshizer, the miller of this city, was one of the passengers on the train.

times completely at the mercy of the Idlewild pitcher, and in face of his great swirling the local team appeared to completely outclass the visitors.

There are few grounds which could have been played upon after the amount of rain which fell on those at the park, and the rain kept up until 3 o'clock. In half an hour the infield was clear of water and the game proceeded before a small crowd which had braved the threatening weather to witness the contest. Manager Driscoll could have saved money by paying the visitors their rain guarantee but he determined to play to a losing business rather than disappoint the loyal fans who had assembled to see the game. The wet grass in the outfield made the ball difficult for the pitchers to handle, but outside of this fact the game was most interesting to watch and several sensational fielding feats brought forth rounds of applause.

The best was a phenomenal catch by Harry Taylor in the sixth of a fly in deep left center after a hard run, the fleet-footed fielder getting the ball just as he crashed into the fence. Ivan Wagner also handled several chances without an error and pulled off a double play unassisted.

Wessel for the visitors did good work at short field. Nel Mason was called to umpire and did the job in most satisfactory style. The visitors did considerable kicking on his decisions on balls and strikes but it was senseless as Mason was conscientious and nearly always right.

The visitors run came in the ninth and resulted from a base on balls, a steal and a two bagger. The tabulated score follows:

STONE

LET PIQUA DOWN WITH FOUR SCATTERED HITS

And Idlewild Had No Trouble in Defeating the Fast Blacks Thursday Afternoon.

Once again Thursday afternoon, Howard Stone demonstrated the fact that he is one of the best pitchers who has ever shown goods for any team on the Idlewild grounds, when he let the strong Piqua team down with four scattered hits and one lonesome run. Stone's feat must be given all the more consideration when it is remembered that for nine innings he was handling a wet and slippery ball, which was hard to control and harder to get the proper curves. The strong batters of the Piqua team were at all

The Idlewild team plays Piqua today and Saturday with a game with Zanesville in Newark on Sunday. The team then goes on the longest trip so far this season, playing every day next week away from home. Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday they are in Urbana, and the last three days in Piqua.

The Zanesville game should and probably will draw the largest crowd of the season on account of the intense rivalry between the two cities and their baseball representatives.

Doyle's hitting was a feature of Thursday's game, the right fielder getting two slashing two baggers and a single out of three times up. Doyle gives every evidence of being a first-class ball player.

Piqua has a bunch of good ball-players, but they are rampant kickers. They soon found however, that bluff tactics would not go with Nel Mason, whose umpiring was of the best. Thursday.

They are led by Orr whose senseless kicking is disgusting. At no time did he have a semblance of an excuse, but to be charitable let it be said that he was fearfully sore about the fact that Stone fanned him every time up, and treated Orr's battery partner in a like manner.

Wagner's fast work in the first inning appears in the score as a double play unassisted, but in reality was a triple play, there being one out how- ever when it was pulled off. Wharton had fled to Justice. Wall was passed by Stone and went to second on Sykes' hit. With two on bases, Roaring Bill Kennedy hit a terrific liner over second. Wagner got the ball, stepped on second, retiring Wall, and then threw to Farrell before Sykes could get back to first. It deserved the applause it received.

RETURNS

To Licking County to See People Who Were His Pupils in School Here Years Ago.

During the fall and winter of 1854 and 1855 a young man by the name of John Washburn taught school at the little school house about a mile east of Union Station near the railroad. Little did they think at that time that the little schoolmaster would become one of the prominent citizens of Decatur where he has one of the largest and best groceries, queensware and glassware stores of the city. Mr. Washburn lived in Newark and clerked in a store for some years, he then began teaching school and taught several of the district schools around Newark. In 1859, or about 45 years ago, he left for the west, settling in Decatur, Ill., at which time that town had about 1,000 inhabitants.

He has lived there ever since and has seen some wonderful improvements. Decatur is now about the same size of Newark, which at that time had some 6,000 or 7,000 inhabitants. He notices some great improvements in Newark also, but says the Public Square remains about the same, except in buildings. The most noticeable changes being that Newark has spread out and covers much more territory than it did. Mr. Washburn came here to visit some of his old friends, among them being the late Albert Cunningham, who died the evening of his arrival, and Mrs. Miriam Partridge of Newark.

The following is a list of pupils he taught during the term of school in 1854 and 1855: Lewis Farmer, George and John Shull, Sam Keeran, Reason Browning, John Edwards, Marvin Gill, Marion and Wm. Connell, Stephan Ashton, Willard Cunningham, John Laughery, Jeremiah Jewell, John Sparks, George Hopkins, Thos. Park, Rawson Ford, Wm. Farmer, John Layre, Aaron Vanatta, Newton McMillen, Norville Hughes, Edwin Connell, John Vail, Arthur Reeds, John Vance, Wm. Vanatta, Felix Ford, Wm. Tippet, Henrietta Connell, Almira Keeran, Eliza Gill, Mary Ford, Rebecca Shull, Margaret Ford, Mary Keeran, Harriett Cunningham, Nancy Tippet, Mary Reeves, Sadina Shull, Edella Cunningham, Anna and Lucinda Park, Louise, Connell, Eliza and Martha Park, John Tippet, Sheldon Jewett, Esta Harry, Ezekiel Sparks, Joseph Ashton, Jarried, Joseph, Sarah, William, and John Price, Margaret Tippet and Sarah Wilcox, making in all 88 pupils. Mr. Washburn called on a few of his old time scholars and made inquiries after those he was unable to visit in the short time he was here.

Engine and Five Cars Piled Up Inside of Two Car Lengths—Track Clear Friday.

Granville, O., July 8.—Shortly after noon on Thursday a bad wreck occurred on the T. & O. C. R. R., about one mile west of this place. A north-bound freight train, hauling a heavy load of coal, was bowling north at a good rate of speed, when it struck a place where the rails had been loosened by the flood. The result was that the engine and five cars of coal were derailed and piled up inside of two car lengths. The wreck train with two extra engines were brought down from Bucyrus, and the wrecking crew were engaged at work all night in clearing up the wreck. This morning the tracks were clear and trains are all running as usual.

RATTLESNAKES

Escaped From Their Cage and Drove the B & O Express Messenger From the Car.

Baltimore, Md., July 8.—A dozen rattlesnakes that escaped from their cage, made things lively for Express Messenger Turner on Baltimore and Ohio train No. 47, between Washington and Martinsburg yesterday, and as a result of a battle between the reptiles and the messenger, the latter was compelled to beat a hasty retreat and abandon his car to the unwelcome intruders.

The snakes were received at Philadelphia and were billed to a point in the West. After the train had left Washington, the messenger opened the compartment in which the box had been placed, and discovered that they had escaped and were crawling over and between the packages in that part of the car. The reptiles were not inclined to retreat, and showed fight, whereupon Mr. Turner hastily quitted that part of the car, and shut and locked the door.

When Pittsburg is reached an effort will be made to capture or kill the snakes.

Is an Aspirant for the New State Hospital—Claims Presented by Zanesville People.

Zanesville, O., July 8.—Residents of this county will ask the commission recently appointed by Governor Herlick to locate a site for the proposed state hospital for the treatment of tuberculosis to consider High Hill, a remarkable summit in the southeastern part of the county, as an eligible site. It is claimed that this point is admirably adapted for the purposes of such a hospital. In addition to being one of the highest points in the state, the site possesses other qualities worthy of consideration. An inexhaustible well of water is located almost on the summit. The temperature is not so variable as it is in lower localities and the atmosphere is comparatively dry and is extremely bracing.

It is claimed by some topographers that High Hill is the highest point in Ohio. Its altitude is recorded as being 1,435 feet. Its most pretentious Buckeye rival is a point near Bellefontaine, which an altitude of over 1,500 feet is claimed.

PAUL MORTON.
Chicago Railroad Man Who Has Become Secretary of Navy.
The selection of a railroad man to a cabinet position is rather an unusual choice. The associations of Mr. Paul Morton of Chicago, who has been appointed secretary of the navy by President Roosevelt, have in the main been those of business rather than politics. His appointment is notable in another way, for in accepting the post of secretary of the navy Mr. Morton will relinquish an income said to be considerably in excess of the $8000 salary he will receive as a cabinet officer. He is now second vice president of the Atchafalaya, Topeka and Santa Fe railroad and a director in the Indiana, Illinois and Iowa railroad and one of its principal owners. The new cabinet officer is a son of the late J. Sterling Morton secretary of agriculture in President Cleveland's second cabinet. He was born in 1857 in Detroit while his mother was on a visit to that city. She soon after re- turned to her home in Nebraska, and the son was brought up there on his father's farm. It was on the route of the mule trains which carried settlers westward to the gold fields of California, and as the "prairie schooners" passed by the Morton home the boy Paul watched them and even at that early age gained the interest in transportation which in later years made him so successful as a manager and director of steam railroads. His first ambition was to be a wagon boss or stage driver. At sixteen he took a clerkship in the Chicago and Burlington railroad and was advanced from time to time until at twenty-one he became assistant general freight agent. In 1886 he became general passenger agent of the system. In 1898 he was chosen to his present position of second vice president of the Santa Fe railroad. He was formerly a Democrat, but voted for Palmer and Buckner in 1896 and for McKinley in 1900.

PAUL MORTON OF CHICAGO.

DR. W. K. VAN REYPEN.

Navy's Former Surgeon General Now
Head of Red Cross.

Few young doctors ever confront such a large practice and such heavy responsibilities as were thrust upon the new head of the American Red Cross society, Dr. William Knickerbocker Van Reypen, former surgeon general of the navy, when he was at the very beginning of his career as a surgeon. A short time after receiving his medical diploma Dr. Van Reypen was sent to Key West to take charge of the naval hospital there. The civil war was in progress, and the station was a most important one on account of the large number of ships in the gulf blockade squadron. The medical officer who had been in charge at the station had just died from yellow fever, and there were fifty-three cases of the dreaded disease and only one nurse when Dr. Van Reypen arrived. But the young surgeon proved equal to the emergency.

Dr. Van Reypen was born in New Jersey, Nov. 14, 1840. He is a graduate from both the academic and medical departments of New York university and entered the navy in 1861. He has given lifelong study to the subject of care and transportation of the wounded in naval warfare and read a paper on this topic at the international medical congress at Moscow in 1897 which was highly praised. It embodied his ideas concerning a model ambulance ship. When he became surgeon general of the navy a few months later he at once set about carrying out these ideas in effect, anticipating the outbreak of war with Spain. The result was the ambulance ship Solace, which performed such excellent service during the war. Surgeon General Van Reypen was on the retired list in 1902. His life work in the relief of suffering caused by war makes his choice as president of the Red Cross society especially fitting.

Atlantic City, N. J., the most popular of the hundred or more resorts along the Atlantic Coast, is pronounced the finest watering place in the world. This great American Seashore Resort has kept pace with the times and prospered. The hotels have grown in num-ber and size. Prosperity and popu-larity are with it.

The surf bathing which has made Atlantic City famous is one of the won-ders of the world. The sight during bathing hours defies description; men, women and children in bathing cos-tumes of varied hues form a picture to be seen only at Atlantic City.

Aside from the seaside features, Atlantic City has amusements of every kind. Great iron piers extend hun-dreds of feet into the ocean. Each pier has its summer theater and band stands, and for a nominal price one can enjoy the comfortable chairs of the pier and listen to the music of the bands throughout the entire day, if he so wills it.

The proximity of Atlantic City to all the big central and western cities, by reason of the excellent through train service of the Baltimore & Ohio Rail-road, makes it the resort of the masses. Tickets will be available on all regular trains, and will be good for return twelve days, including date of sale, thus giving ample time for an en-joyable outing. Stop-over within limit of ticket will be allowed at Philadel-phia, Pa., and Washington, D. C., on return trip.

CLEARED HIS CLIENT.

The Peculiar Way a Lawyer is Said to Have Won a Case.

They tell a good story at the expense of W. B. Rodgers, the only lawyer at the Allegheny county bar—or in the United States, for that matter—who holds the distinction of having been city attorney of the three cities of one county at various times. He was coun-sel some time ago for a man charged with a serious offense, and on the day of the trial the defendant was in a con-jiction that would certainly not have improved his chances of acquittal. At-torney Rodgers was worried, but he is a general in addition to being a politi-cal diplomat. He locked his client in a room in a downtown hotel and then studied out the knotty problem before him.

One of the most prominent oil opera-tors of Pittsburg and one of his most intimate friends happened into his of-fice shortly before he was ready to try the case. It was only a social call for a quiet chat, and Mr. Rodgers requested that his friend go into the courtroom with him. The oil operator sat beside Mr. Rodgers at the counsel table, and during the progress of the case he took little note of what was going on. He was not interested. Several times wit-nesses pointed in his direction, as did Mr. Rodgers, but the oil operator thought nothing of it. Mr. Rodgers tried to be indifferent. None of the witnesses appeared to know the opera-tor—at least they said that they did not—and the prosecutor also stated that he did not know the man seated beside Mr. Rodgers. The jury naturally thought the man was Mr. Rodgers' client, and when the right bower of Bige-low at the conclusion of the testimony got up and said, "That is my case; this is not the man," not many minutes were wasted in bringing in a verdict of acquittal.

The oil operator accompanied Mr. Rodgers out of court, and it was not until they were a safe distance away from the seat of justice that Mr. Rod-gers confided to his friend that he had posed as the defendant in the case. The operator was mad all through when he first heard of it, but the ridicu-lousness of the situation appealed to him, and he took it as a huge joke and as a sample of the diplomacy of one who could pull a brand out of the burning. It is doubtful whether the brilliant city attorney would acknowl-edge the story, but his friends say it is true.—Pittsburg Gazette.

GERMAN CLEANINGS.

American dentists practicing in Ger-many are now prohibited from using the title "doctor."

Among the names of new streets in Berlin approved by the kaiser are Car-men Sylva, Pasteur, Turk, Dane and Flotow.

Hamburg has a Madchenheim, or refuge for girls, at which, last year, 9,345 young women were provided with sleeping accommodations at 7 to 10 cents per night.

The latest vocation opened to women in Berlin is that of being a "Roentgen sister," or a nurse specially trained for treating patients with X rays, a task which requires much skill and care.

The German government has pre-pared a bill to promote the erection of small dwellings, unimpeachable from sanitary, moral and social points of view, and at the same time obtainable at a reasonably low rent.

The Bavarian trade museum has adopted a novel idea to interest as well as to instruct the public and pur-chasers of toys by sending out travel-ing lecturers, who show the practical workings of the toys by means of models in actual operation.

PLAYS AND PLAYERS.

Charles Frohman is to produce the next new play by George Ade.

Miss Etta Reed (Mrs. Corse Parton) is spending the summer in the moun-tains and has quite recovered her health.

Hope Booth, who is now Mrs. Renold Wolf of New York, will return to the stage next season, appearing in New York only, possibly in Mrs. Fiske's com-pany.

HEBRON NEWS

The "Glorious Fourth" which was celebrated here on a big scale passed off without any accidents whatever to mar the pleasure of the day. The program, "as advertised," was well carried out and all during the day and evening the music-loving people enjoyed the instrumental music from the Millersport band, which was fine and gave everybody the spirit of the Fourth. Altogether it was a red letter day for our village and never before were so many people assembled together at one time. An estimate of 5,000 would be putting it small. However, our village is noted for its fine hotels, good meals and lunches, with the best of accommodations, and that is what the people want nowadays. If, as predicted, Buckeye Lake is to be the coming Atlantic City of Central Ohio, then Hebron will

"bring up the rear," get her share of patronage and grow to be a beautiful city.

Harry E. Clark formerly connected with the Arlington Hotel, has accepted a position at the Lakeside Hotel, two miles south of town, on the T. & O. C. R. R.

Miss Nellie Holmes, treasurer of the Young Woman's Temperance Association of Buffalo, N.Y., strongly advises all suffering women to rely, as she did, upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—Your medicine is indeed an ideal woman's medicine, and by far the best I know to restore lost health and strength. I suffered miserably for several years, being troubled with menorrhagia. My back ached, I had bearing-down pains and frequent headaches. I would often wake from restless sleep, and in such pain that I suffered for hours before I could go to sleep again. I dreaded the long nights as much as the weary days. I consulted two different physicians, hoping to get relief, but, finding that their medicine did not seem to cure me, I tried your Vegetable Compound on the recommendation of a friend from the East who was visiting me. I am glad that I followed her advice, for every ache and pain is gone, and not only this, but my general health is much improved. I have a fine appetite and have gained in flesh. My nervous system is suffering women to put aside all other medicines and to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.—Miss Nellie Holmes, 540 No. Division St., Buffalo, N.Y. —$5000 forfeit if original of above letter proving genuineness cannot be produced.

DISCRIMINATING LADIES.

Enjoy Using Herpicide on Account of Its Distinctiveness.

The ladies who have used Newbro's Herpicide speak of it in the highest terms, for its quick effect in cleansing the scalp of dandruff and also for its excellence as a general hair-dressing. It makes the scalp feel fresh and it allays that itching which dandruff will cause. Newbro's Herpicide effectively cures dandruff, as it destroys the germ that causes it. The same germ causes hair to fall out, and later baldness; in killing it, Herpicide stops falling hair and prevents baldness. It is also an ideal hair dressing, for it lends an aristocratic charm to the hair that is quite distinctive. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

MRS. ROSE GEORGE'S FATHER.

Dennis Smith, one of the pioneer citizens of Mt. Vernon, died Thursday afternoon of heart trouble.

The deceased was 81 years of age. Most of his life was spent in Mt. Vernon, and for the past 37 years he resided in the house in which he died. Mr. Smith was a carpenter. For several terms he was city councilman from the Fifth ward. He is survived by five children: Mrs. Rose E. George, of Newark; Henry C. Smith, of Mt. Vernon; Mrs. Marion Hill, of Steelton, Pa.; Mrs. Ellen K. Miller, of Alton, Ill.; Miss Sade Smith of Mt. Vernon.

MRS. LAVINA MCCREARY.

Mrs. Lavina McCreary, widow of Wilson McCreary, died at her home on Buena Vista street at midnight Thursday, after a long illness, aged 65. The deceased leaves two children, Mrs. Nettie Smart and Robert McCreary, both of Newark.

The funeral will be conducted from the home by Rev. L. S. Boyce, at 2 o'clock Sunday.

We are staging what you ask for at Idlewild Park Casino.

The Russians are not the first people to float mines. Wall street has been in the business for years. And many an innocent craft has been wrecked thereby.

THE FLOOD

THE BOOMING STREAMS ARE NOW IN THEIR BANKS.

Baltimore and Ohio Suffers East of Newark—Engineer Floyd's Thrilling Run Thursday.

The high waters in the streams about Newark have receded almost as rapidly as they came up, and today while still higher than usual, have assumed their normal channel.

The rush of the streams toward the junction of the North and South Forks of the Licking and onward to Zanesville where the Licking flows into the Muskingum, made an accumulation in the vicinity of that city however which late Thursday night and Friday morning had assumed the proportions of a disastrous flood. It is probable however, that in view of the rapid fall in the streams about Newark that the highest point in the lower Licking and the Muskingum at Zanesville was reached during Thursday night.

At 2 o'clock the crest of the flood in West Newark was reached and passed, and by early evening the Raccoon had fallen below the danger line. The crest of the high waters was passed in the North Fork later, but by midnight the receding of the flood had rapidly begun.

The situation at Zanesville is told in the following from that city:

Zanesville, July 8.—During the 24 hours preceding 4 o'clock Thursday afternoon, 3.67 inches of water fell in the heavy rains. It is the greatest amount of rainfall in Zanesville for more than the past 12 years.

Throughout Thursday the mad rush of water through the opening made in the bank of the Licking river at the northern end of the flouring mill dam continued to wash away earth. At an early hour Friday morning the dirt has been washed from beneath the Baltimore and Ohio railway side track and a great loss of earth at this point is predicted as the water in the river continues to rise.

The land where the break in the bank occurred is owned by the B. & O. railway. It is this corporation that will lose by the action of the high water and it is doubtful if the damage will be repaired at any time in the near future.

Along the side track of the railroad were stored many iron bridge timbers by the B. & O. railroad. These were moved Thursday until the water rose to such a height and the bank fell away at such a rapid rate that it was necessary to pull the cars on the side-track away to a place of safety.

The railroads suffered greatly from the storms. The B. & O. was probably the heaviest loser.

Train No 112, the St. Louis special, in this city at 4:51 o'clock in the afternoon, looked like a mud horse upon its arrival here. To the height of the headlight mud and debris covered the locomotive and passenger cars. Near Dullins Falls, rounding a curve in the road, a mad rush of water across the track was run into by the train. Engineer James Floyd of Newark, saw that it was impossible and dangerous to stop. All steam was put on and headway made at the fastest speed possible. The train came through safely and only dirt was to be seen because of it.

SAVED THE COWS.

Granville, O., July 8.—During the big flood of Wednesday night and Thursday seven fine cows belonging to Rev. Mr. Nixon, J. R. Williams and others of Granville, were caught by the high waters in the bottoms just north of Granville, and stood in the water, which flowed over their backs all night and until nearly 10 o'clock Thursday morning before they were released. Scores of people stood on the banks all morning devising ways and means to effect their release. As they were several hundred yards from the shore the matter of their release was a difficult problem to solve. Finally two young men, for a consideration of $14, swam out to the cattle and succeeded in driving them to the shore, amid the laughter of the people.

KILLED BY LIGHTNING.

JOS. M'MANUS

BOUND OVER AND SENT TO THE COUNTY JAIL.

Flora Harris Pleads Not Guilty and Her Case Was Continued Till Evening.

Joe McManus, who was charged by a man named Riley with holding him up in a B. & O. box car near Black Island, and taking 37 cents from him at the point of a revolver, was bound over to the grand jury in the sum of $300, and sent to the county jail in default of bond.

At the time of McManus' arrest a penny was found on his person, with a hole in it, which Riley said belonged to him. This penny Mrs. Linn, of East Newark, testified that she gave McManus two years ago when he sold her coal oil, and that he said at the time: "I'll keep this to remember the jolliest customer on my route."

Mayor Crilly, however, was convinced that enough evidence was adduced to bind the prisoner over.

Flora Harris was arrested for keeping a house of prostitution, and three girls for being inmates. They pleaded not guilty and the cases were continued until 7 o'clock Friday evening.
